

Sermons?

What kind of sermons do you like to listen to? Expository, exegetical, topical, thematic, narrative, deductive, inductive, exhortation, didactic or good old fire and brimstone? (Or if you're honest – you don't care what kind it is so long as it's short!)

What kind of preacher do you like to listen to? Dramatic, soft-spoken, fiery, a teacher, an encourager, a story-teller, the bold-prophet, the aw-shucks-good old boy, an eloquent orator, or one who just gets it said?

Do you want to go away from the sermon motivated, illuminated, instructed, encouraged, exhorted, challenged, emotional, feeling good, or feeling guilty, amazed by the preacher, or amazed at his God?

What kind of a preacher do you think Jesus was? We already know a few things about him: In Luke 4, when he preached in the synagogue in Nazareth, his hometown, everyone was riveted to what he said. And when he finished, they “all spoke well of him and were amazed at the gracious words that came from his lips.” A few moments later his words had so infuriated them that they tried to throw him off a cliff. When he spoke in Capernaum, “All the people were amazed and said to each other, ‘What is this teaching? With authority and power he gives orders to evil spirits and they come out!’” Wherever he went, the word had already spread about him and people came from everywhere to hear him speak. And when he spoke, “the crowds were amazed because he spoke as one who had authority, not as their teachers of the law.”

We've heard a few of his parables, and snippets of sermons, and exchanges with demons and Pharisees. His sermons were obviously not monologues or lectures – people just butted right in and challenged what he said – and he responded. He talked about everyday things like farming and fishing and merchants and building houses and shepherding sheep. But he also talked about heaven and hell and following him regardless of the cost. Some who listened to Jesus realized he had the words of life, others who heard him believed he was too dangerous to be allowed to live.

What strikes me most is that when Jesus spoke, it was not just the power of his words that touched people, it was the power of who he was. He didn't just speak words, he is the Word. That is what ultimately matters. Regardless of whether you listen to the words of the sermon each Sunday, you absolutely need to listen to the Word who speaks to you daily.

“Water at the Well”

John 4:1-42

- I. He had to go through Samaria
 - Tired as he was
 - A Samaritan woman
 - “Will you give me a drink?”
 - Living water
- II. “Go call your husband”
 - Rejection
 - Evasive action
- III. True worship
 - Not where but what
 - Spirit and truth
 - When the Messiah comes
- IV. She left her waterpot
 - Many believed because of her
 - The fields are ripe for harvest

Suggestion Box

There is now a suggestion box in the foyer for anyone to offer suggestions on how the Glenwood church can have greater effectiveness in God's kingdom.

For Our Guests:

We are thrilled that you have joined us this morning. We hope that your time of worship and fellowship will be a blessing to you. As our guest, we would like to ask you to fill out a guest card that you will find in the rack on the back of each pew. When the offering tray comes around, just drop it in as your contribution to us.

If you have any needs we can help with, or if you are looking for a church family where you can worship and serve God, please let us know how we can serve you.

For Your Children:

A Nursery is available for babies through age 3 at the back of the auditorium (on the east side).

Kingdom Kids is for children who are ages 4 years through 4th grade. They will be dismissed to go downstairs after the offering.

Kingdom Builders is for 5th grade through teens. Meet in teen room after the offering.

Each week this congregation participates in the Lord's Supper, following the teaching of Scripture and the pattern of the church in the New Testament. This is a time for those who have committed themselves to follow Jesus as Lord to remember His sacrifice for us and to renew our allegiance to Him. Everyone sharing this intention is welcome to participate.
